Behavior Science Research is a refereed journal that publishes studies pertaining to cross-cultural or comparative issues in the social/behavioral sciences. Worldwide cross-cultural studies are particularly welcomed, but all kinds of systematic contributions are accepted so long as they explicitly have cross-cultural implications. Also invited are annotated bibliographies on specific areas or topics in the behavior sciences and field reports on societies in the HRAF Files.

MANUSCRIPTS should be submitted in quadruplicate, preferably 25-30 typewritten pages—50 at most. An abstract of 50-75 words should accompany the manuscript. Send manuscripts to Judith G. Camera, Managing Editor, BSR, Human Relations Area Files, Inc., P.O. Box 2015, Yale Station, New Haven, CT 06520.
